The Corpus of Contemporary American English (COCA) is the only large, genre-balanced corpus of American English. COCA is probably the most widely-used corpus of English, and it is related to many other corpora of English that we have created, which offer unparalleled insight into variation in English.

The corpus contains more than one billion words of text (25+ million words each year 1990-2019) from eight genres: spoken, fiction, popular magazines, newspapers, academic texts, and (with the update in March 2020): TV and Movies subtitles, blogs, and other web pages.

Click on any of the links in the search form to the left for context-sensitive help, and to see the range of queries that the corpus offers.

There are three main ways to search the corpus:

First, you can browse a frequency list of the top 60,000 words in the corpus, including searches by word form, part of speech, ranges in the 60,000 word list, and even by pronunciation. This should be particularly useful for language learners and teachers.

" Despite their different personalities -- Warne is a larger-than-life figure who talks with brio of his visits to Las Vegas, while the 5-foot-5 Tendulkar comes across as a mild-mannered philosopher -- the two men share an easy rapport.
